Introducing the Wireless Control range. The RFTHM is a 24hour mechanical room thermostat unit that is pre-commissioned to make the installation process quick and easy, as the transmitter and receiver 'communicate' with each other immediately upon installation.

The RFTH1 is a 7 day programmable room thermostat that allows the user to preset individual room temperature requirements for different periods of the day/week. Using a combined time switch and room thermostat it controls the boiler operation to factory set functions or the customer's own setting.
